THIS week marks the halfway point for 2008 and brings with it the semiannual roundup of all the wines featured in Wine Spectator's Insider newsletter this year. The Insider switched to a weekly schedule in 2008 and as of last week, we've reviewed 874 wines since this past January—that's nearly as many wines as were covered here in all of 2007.

Wines from 12 different regions around the world have been featured on the pages of the Insider this year. Nearly three fourths of the wines come from California, France and Italy and, as usual, the lion's share are French, with nearly 300 wines reviewed (see chart at left). There have been nearly 90 classic-rated wines featured here in the past six months. Two of them earned 99 points—a dessert wine from S.A. Hüet and the 2004 Sperss from Gaja—but top honors in the first half of 2008 went to Château Pavie, which earned a perfect 100 points from James Suckling for its 2005 St.-Emilion.

For easy reference, wines are arranged in alphabetical order by producer within major wine regions. Bottlings listed as Hot Wines when first published in the Insider are indicated by a ♦. Each listing includes the wine's score and price; for complete tasting notes, search our online database at WineSpectator.com

WINE SPECTATOR'S TASTINGS

Wine Spectator reviews more than 15,000 wines each year; our senior editors comprise the most experienced staff of professional wine tasters of any publication in the world. Each editor specializes in the wines of specific regions; their initials identify the taster of each wine reviewed.

We always taste wines blind, in our offices in San Francisco, Napa, New York and Tuscany, and in the vineyard regions of Europe. This is your guarantee that a wine's reputation or price does not influence its score. We score wines using our 100-point scale, explained below.

James Laube Senior editor, Napa
Joined Wine Spectator in 1983. Tasting beat: California

Kim Marcus Managing editor, New York
Joined Wine Spectator in 1988. Tasting beat: Austria, Greece, Portugal, Southern France

Thomas Matthews Executive editor, New York
